FROZEN TO GROUND

Was Dead Body Found in Forest Near Bainbridge.

Woman Left House in Night Clothes and Wandered in Woods Until Frozen.

The dead body of Mrs. Jake Cluck, of near Bainbridge, was found last Saturday morning in the woods about one and a half miles from her home.

Mrs. Cluck arose from her bed about 3 o'clock in the morning and left the house in her night clothes. Members of the family heard her when she arose and walked out, but the supposition was that she had gone into another room for water and no particular attention was paid to the matter.

After daylight it was discovered that she was missing and her failure to return at the breakfast hour caused alarm, and a search was instituted by Mr. Cluck and some of his neighbors.

The woman was barefooted and in walking over the ice and sleet her feet were soon cut and commenced bleeding. The hunting party had not gone far until they found her bloody tracks and following them to the woods the search was continued. About 9 o'clock in the morning they came upon the corpse, lying on her side, with her face frozen to the ground.

No marks of violence were found on the body and it was evident that she had frozen to death, and had been there since her disappearance. Mrs. Cluck was about 45 years old and had not enjoyed good health for a year or more. It is believed that continued ill health had affected her mind and that she was not rational when she wandered away to her death.

DEATH NEAR FRUIT HILL.

Much Esteemed Citizen Passes Away After Brief Illness.

Mr. Ben H. West, a highly respected citizen of the Fruit Hill country, and uncle of Councilman Jas. West, Dr. P. E. West and Mr. Robt. West of this city, died Tuesday night, after a brief illness, of pneumonia. He was about 55 years old.

Mr. West leaves no family, his wife having predeceased him to a grave a few years ago.

The interment took place in the family burying ground Wednesday.

FELL TWENTY FEET.

Henry Steele Landed at Bottom Ice House.

Mr. Henry Steele, of the Gracey neighborhood, was the victim of a painful accident a few days ago.

While superintending the unloading of ice from a wagon he slipped and fell in the ice-house, a distance of twenty feet.

The shock rendered him unconscious for a time and his right leg was injured, a gash several inches in length being cut on the limb below the knee.

GRAND SERMONS.

Three of the Best of All Sermons.

Meetings Closed Last Night Much to the Regret of Everybody.

MONDAY NIGHT.

Notwithstanding the fact that several hundred people had remained in the Tabernacle from 9 o'clock in the morning to 4 in the afternoon, and of course were engaged, the lower part of the building was filled at the night service. No doubt the snow falling at the time, which gave abundant promise of a heavy fall, kept many away who would have been in from the country. Dr. Pentecost has crossed the ocean something like three dozen times and has been all over Europe time and again—in fact, been almost everywhere—and we hazard nothing in saying that he has gone into another room for water and no particular attention was paid to the matter.

After daylight it was discovered that she was missing and her failure to return at the breakfast hour caused alarm, and a search was instituted by Mr. Cluck and some of his neighbors.

The woman was barefooted and in walking over the ice and sleet her feet were soon cut and commenced bleeding. The hunting party had not gone far until they found her bloody tracks and following them to the woods the search was continued. About 9 o'clock in the morning they came upon the corpse, lying on her side, with her face frozen to the ground.

No marks of violence were found on the body and it was evident that she had frozen to death, and had been there since her disappearance.

Mrs. Cluck was about 45 years old and had not enjoyed good health for a year or more. It is believed that continued ill health had affected her mind and that she was not rational when she wandered away to her death.

When man was created he was the lord of creation, not as a tyrant or a cruel ruler, but the overlord of creation. All the things of creation were under him. He was made in God's own image. He commanded and had fellowship with God. After Adam had fallen he tried to hide from his God. He did not seek the Lord as before, but he heard the voice of the Lord God walking in the garden in the cool of the day, and he said to God, "I heard thy voice in the garden, and I was afraid, because I was naked; and I hid myself." God was looking for him, seeking him out. Though man had sinned and lost standing with God, the Lord loved him. Adam was a moral coward, moral outcast. Though God had to drive Adam from the garden he loved him so that even then he devised a plan for his redemption—he could not give him up in his lost and ruined condition. We hear a great deal about character and reputation, but character is not reputation. Character is what a man is and his reputation is what others mean by him. But God forgives men and pardons them. Pardon is not forgiveness. It is a hard thing to forgive a man who has injured you, one of the hardest things in this world for man to do. It is easy for a man to lose his standing in the commercial world. We make little worlds for ourselves, and are very careful not to lose our standing—try to keep up our reputation, but what is reputation if there is no character behind it? In the great moral universe man has lost his standing with God. Character in man is everything—he should think more of his character than his reputation. Henry Clay, the great Kentucky commoner, was right when he said "I'd rather be right than President." He was thinking and talking about his character. There was nothing too good for him, he had communion and complete fellowship with God; and even after he sinned God so loved him that,

MAIN STREET, HOPKINSVILLE, KY.

"The Fullness or Abundance of Divine Forgiveness." Dr. Pentecost read the 2nd chapter of Mark, verses 1 to 8 inclusive. When John Bunyan wrote his autobiography he entitled his volume, "Grace Abounding." This ought to be the title of every Christian. Inspired men were not given to using the infinitive to any great extent, and were sparing of adjectives, but when speaking of the abounding grace of God, they could not restrain themselves. Peter speaks of the "precious blood of Christ." He couldn't help it. When they wrote anything implying the greatness of redemption they had to use adjectives. When we read in Eph. 1:7, 8, "In whom we have redemption through his blood the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace; wherein he both abounded toward us in all wisdom and prudence," it ought to set our hearts singing. Oh, the abounding forgiveness of God! The uttermost of God's infinite resources. Nothing else meets my case. I want enough to swim in. Enough for me to know that God wants me to know it. Salvation is a great thing. If God had been niggardly, stingy with grace, it would have been enough. But when he has given so abundantly of grace, what black ingratitude to turn away from it. How abundant the righteousness is like the great God. "They righteousness is like the great mountains: thy judgments are a great deep." (36th Psalm, 6.) When we come to touch him on the point of forgiveness, his grace is poured out like a river of salvation. But David with blood on his hands did not ask small things of God, though he spoiled the life of a woman and murdered her husband, he cries out in the 130th Psalm, "Out of the depth have I cried unto thee, O Lord." Again in the 7th verse, "Let Israel hope in the Lord; for with the Lord there is mercy, and with him is plenteous redemption." Read the 130th Psalm. The first verse of the 5th Chapter Solomon's Song is God's invitation to dinner. What a table God spreads for sinners! Isaiah says "let the wicked forsake his ways and the unrighteous man his thoughts, and I will abundantly pardon." Christ says in John 10:10 "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." Grace is bigger than sin. Where sin abounded, grace did much more abound. (Rom. 5:20.) God has more grace in Christ than all the sins of the world can exhaust. Who can fathom the depth of God's grace? Who can measure the breadth, length and height of God's forgiveness? Don't you see you can't buy it? What have you to give for a thing like that? It must be a gift. All the way through the New Testament we find the amazing declaration that Christ came to give our sins, but he does it so abundantly! When God wanted his people to come up out of Egypt he hired

The February "American Boy."

The February American Boy (Sprague Publishing Co., Detroit, Mich.) comes to us suggestive of winter in its front cover illustration of boys coasting. The stories in this number will prove highly interesting to a five boy, and will not prove uninteresting to grown folks. They are: "The Great Kenebec Hill Race," "The Thrill Ride," "Toby; A Story for Little Boys," "Fun and Profit in Trapping," "A Case of Mistaken Identity," "Trooper Stork," and "Working My Way Around the World."

Among the articles helpful to boys are: "Boys Get Strong," "Some Boys I Have Met," "Familiar Talks With Boys," "For Boys To Think About," and "George Washington, the Boy."

The well known special departments of this publication are as usual filled with well selected items of interest to boys, and all fully illustrated. The following titles merely suggest the varied contents of these departments: "A Tale With Buffalo Bill," "The Accord Wigwam Society," "An Ingenious Sail Wagon," "Home Made Moving Pictures," "A Model Office Boy," "A Boy Congress," "American Boy," "Shut-Ins," "A Little Machinist," "Boys Doing," "The Bulldog and the Pig," "Tea or Papers," "The Boy Photographer," "The Boy Candy Maker," "How to Start a Small Paper," "The Agassiz Association," "The Boy's Garden," and a whole page of delightful puzzles.

A Rattlesnake Bite.

To illustrate the quickness with which death ensues from the bite of a big rattler. A resident of this city was after quail, with two fine pointers. After scattering a large convoy he began to pick up a stray bird here and there. One fell about 50 yards ahead, and calling to his dog: "Dead bird," he reloaded and slowly advanced. Just as the dog reached the bird he was seen to leap into the air a foot or two, the action being accompanied by a faintly. Now the quail fell, as I have said, only about 50 yards away but when the hunter reached the spot the dog lay stone dead. He had been struck by a rattler six feet in length, and death was nearly instantaneous.—N. Y. Press.

A TEXAS WONDER.HALL'S GREAT DISCOVERY.

One small bottle of Hall's Great Discovery cures all kidney and bladder troubles, removes great curdles, dissolves scurvy, rheumatism, warts and lame limbs, rheumatism and all irregularities of the kidneys and bladder in both men and women, relieves bladder troubles in children. It is the so-called wash fabrics, and some delightful color combinations are shown. An accurate idea of what are to be the favorites of the season may be had from the March Delinicator, which shows patterns of the new materials in actual and reduced size and describes the weaves in detail. The same number illustrates the fancy buttons and braids which are to figure so conspicuously in dress trimmings.

Dear Sirs—I suffered ten years with severe kidney and bladder troubles and at times was unable to work. I was advised to try your Texas Wonder and after using one fourth of one bottle, paid a large sum for it, and never suffered since, paying the same sum years ago, and I have recommended it to many others who reported themselves cured. I most heartily recommend it to all sufferers from kidney or bladder disease.

An Armless Boy Wonder.

Jess Russell Brown, Jr., an 11-year-old boy of Binghamton, N. Y., is a wonder. He was born without arms, yet he can ride a bicycle, drive a horse, play the violin and the drum, and do many remarkable things with his feet.

A Tribe of Spotted Skunks.

A tribe of spotted skunks live on the banks of the Parana in South America. Men, women and children are spotted, with brown spots on a white skin. Their chief article of diet is fish.

Woman is often referred to by men as "doubling his joys and halving his sorrows." That may be complimentary but it would seem to be rather hard on the woman, for in plain terms it means that where men go, women go too.

But when things are going ill with him, he expects the wife to share half his burden. And there's more truth than poetry in this presentation of masculine selfishness. Women are the fact of life, the strain of motherhood alone is a burden bigger than all the loads that rest upon male shoulders. They see the wife grow thin, pale, nervous and worn without a thought that she is overburdened. Among the women of the world there are those who have waked up before it was too late to the crushing burdens laid upon the wife, and in the search for help have found in Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" a restorative which has turned back to the other the health of the maidens and the maidens' happiness. "Favorite Prescription" always helps, and almost always cures. It has perfectly cured ninety-eight out of every hundred women who have used it when afflicted with diseases peculiar to women.

Embroidery for Gowns.

Now that a gown, especially a handsome one, is not considered properly finished unless there is some hand embroidery about it, the amateur will be glad to have some help in the matter. Revers, collars and cuffs, edges of short jackets, bands on skirts and waist, panels and trimmings on skirts are a few of the ways in which the work is utilized. Silk is used for embroidery on woolens, satin or silk goods and wash silk or lined thread on cottons. A number of pretty stitches are illustrated in the March Delinicator, which are well within the reach of the amateur.

THE TERM "SLIM."

As a Curious Sign-Bearer Among Ppls. of South Africa.

"We have an expression in South Africa which I find nobody understands over here," said Capt. McFadden, an officer of the Cape Colony corps who has recently come to America with his wife, Mrs. Irene Asbury, the lecturer on labor topics. "We have a way of calling a man who is tricky in his dealings 'slim.' We speak of the 'slimness' of the South African native, for example, as is always trying to get the better of you in a bargain. He is very ingenious about it, and once you know his ways, is not at all difficult to deal with. If you have something you want to sell for two shillings you must begin by asking him four for it, and when he has beaten you down to two he will be quite satisfied, even if the thing is worth only a shilling. He will always trick you if he can."

"We call him being 'slim.' Over here, I think, you say 'slick' or 'smooth,' but as the expression is meant to describe a quality which often enables a man to get out of a tight place, I think 'slim' is quite as good a word as 'slick.'—"N. Y. Times.

THE GOLDEN FLEECE.

Oldest and Most Celebrated of All the Orders of Chivalry.

Francis Joseph is the head of the Order of the Golden Fleece, the oldest and most celebrated of all the orders of chivalry. It was organized by Philip the Good of Burgundy during the crusades, and has included among its members some of the most famous warriors, statesmen and sovereigns in history. Originally the number was limited to 31, but Charles V. of Spain, when dean of the chapter, with the sanction of Pope Leo X., increased the complement to 50, and Philip III. of the house of Hapsburg secured a further increase to 62. The rules of the order require that the life of the members should be devoted to the propagation of the Roman Catholic faith, hence no Protestant can be admitted without renouncing his religion. George IV. of England, after several urgent requests, had the Golden Fleece bestowed upon him, but never took the oath and never attended any of the meetings of the chapter. Neither the king of England nor the emperor of Russia nor the kaiser of Germany is a member of the order. The president of France was elected recently, and the little king of Spain, when he reaches his eighteenth year, will be admitted to the first vacancy.—William E. Curtis, in the Chicago Record-Herald.

It is a mark of provincialism and lack of good form for people to walk arm-in-arm, says the March Delinicator, or for a man to walk between two ladies; his place is at the outside of the walk. If a lady is very old or infirm and requires assistance, he may offer his arm; otherwise, is unnecessary and is not the custom even after dark. A lady bows first to a man, as it is her privilege to take the initiative in such matters. If people meet several times during the day in walking or driving it is not necessary to bow each time; once is sufficient.

Hopkinsville Kentuckian.Herndon Happenings.

Herndon, Ky., Feb. 11, 1902.—The weather for the past two weeks has been very bad. "The ground hog" says it will continue so for several weeks.

Mr. John Mitchell, from Hopkinsville, visited our town last week. Misses Eva Bridges and Ermine Weaver, of Weaver's Store, Tenn., were the guests of Mrs. Walter Lacy Friday and Saturday.

Miss Alice Anderson, will leave in a few weeks for Campbellsville, Ky., where she will attend college. Mrs. Geo. Knight visited relatives in your city Thursday.

The prayer-meeting at the Methodist church has been discontinued on account of the bad weather.

Mr. P. P. Dawson paid a flying visit to your city Thursday.

When a certain young lady, who lives near this place, goes to the postoffice, a certain young man goes as soon as she leaves and asks for his mail. We wonder why?

Miss Lizzie Lacy, has returned from a visit to friends near La Fayette.

Mr. Goebel Johnson has been very ill but is recovering rapidly.

Mr. "Tuck" Glover is visiting relatives near Wallonia, Ky.

Mr. Robert King visited his mother near Bennettstown Sunday.

Mr. Frank Mason, and family have moved here, where they will reside in the future.

Mr. Bennie Johnson, of Clarksville Town, was the guest of "Sandy" last week.

They are talking of having Herdon incorporated, and have decided to make John McKnight, city judge.

A certain young lady from your city has been visiting our town. A certain young widow, has been very attentive to her. But watch out, Billie, if you don't mind uncle Dick will beat your time.

The young people of this vicinity have been skating a good deal this winter. Especially "Rusty" and the widow.

One of our school boys has become an expert fence walker, but we think he will find better walking on the opposite side of the road.

We heard a man say the other morning that the abbreviation for February-Feb.—means freeze every body, and that man looked frozen in his ulcer. It was apparent that he needed the kind of warmth that stays the warmth that reaches from head to foot, all over the body. We could have told him that Hood's Sarsaparilla gives permanent warmth, it invigorates the blood and speeds it along through artery and vein, and really fits men and women, boys and girls to enjoy cold weather and resist the attack of disease. It gives the right kind of warmth, stimulates and strengthens at the same time, and all its benefits are lasting. There may be a suggestion in this for you.

Some Ways to Stop Nose-Bleed.

Have the child set up straight, and hold the nostrils tightly together. Wrap a small piece of ice in a little cotton wool and gently rub the outside of the nose with it. If this does not stop it may have the child raise its arms above his head and put a wad of tissue paper under his upper lip, holding it firmly. Do not allow the child to blow his nose for some time after the bleeding has stopped. If the attacks are frequent consult a good physician, as there may be some disease of the blood or blood vessels which should be treated before things have gone too far.—February Ladies Home Journal.

—FEBRUARY 14, 1902—

ANNOUNCEMENT:

We are authorized to announce
MR. W. B. C. BELL,
Of Christian County, as a candidate for Railroad
Commissioner in the First Railroad District of Kentucky, and for the office of the Democratic party. Election Nov. 1902.

Prince Henry sails for the United States tomorrow.

George Wharton James, the famous author and scientist, was totally bitten by a snake with which he was experimenting, at Phoenix, Arizona, Tuesday.

Messrs. G. W. Greenup, of Paducah, and Sam H. Crossland, of Mayfield, have announced as candidates for Congress to succeed the Hon. Charles K. Wheeler.

Somebody, who wouldn't name had a thousand dollar piano unloaded and put in Admiral Schley parlor the other day. Near neighbors have not yet put in their complaints.

A Nicholasville, Ky., mob lynched a negro Friday, charged with assaulting Miss Della Powell. He was hanged to a tree in a decent and orderly way in the court-house yard.

Congressman Allen made a notable speech in congress the other day in opposition to the Oleomargarine bill. He grew eloquent and his speech was one of the hits of the session.

If Kentucky lands that $975,000 that she almost has her hands on, will it reduce the rate of taxation? It ought to, but somehow there is always a hole in which to drop every dollar that the State can get hold of.

Louisville has lost out in the effort to get one of the four great army posts that are to be established. One of them goes to California, one to Ft. Riley, Kansas, one to North New York and the other to Chattanooga.

Editor E. M. Jenkins, of the Wingo, Ky., Outlook, is anxious to close out his business and sell his plant, valued at $500. This is a good chance for some one to pick up a good little country printing office cheap. Mr. Jenkins says Wingo will not support a paper.

If Louisville "shows off" as she wants to during Prince Henry's ten minutes stay there, she will either have to cause the dial to turn backward or get a special dispensation from Father Time to stop his onward march for awhile. What is to be done that day can't be done in tea minutes.

Though tried and convicted three times for the same offense, banker McKnight, of Louisville, has been permitted by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals to go back in the sum of $12,000 pending a hearing for a new trial in May. This is another reversal of Judge Walter Evans, a Homeric-like "boy."

Through a mistake in booking last season "The Two Merry Tramps" and Himmelman's Imperial Stock Company each claim the date of Saturday night at the Lexington opera house. The contention resulting has been adjusted by an agreement to alternate acts, both performances to be given in full before the same audience.

Aching Joints

In the fingers, toes, arms, and other parts of the body, are joints that are inflamed and swollen by rheumatism—that acid condition of the blood which affects the muscles also.

Soldiers dread to move, especially after sitting or lying long, and their condition is commonly worse in wet weather.

"It has been a long time since we have been without Hood's Sarsaparilla. My father thinks it is the best medicine. He has been troubled with rheumatism since he was a boy, and Hood's Sarsaparilla has relieved him so much that it will enable him to take his place in the field." Miss Ada Dorr, Sidney, Iowa.

WANT COMMISSION-

ERS REMOVED.

The Courier-Journal is authority for the statement that the Senate Committee on Charitable Institutions will not only recommend the confirmation of the lawless element representing the administration in the Western Asylum, but will recommend the removal of the honest commissioners, who have protected the interests of the State during the carnival of crime and immorality that has disgraced the institution. No stream can be purer than its source, but there ought to be enough decent men in the Senate to prevent a sewerage of gambling and grafting from flowing through the insane asylums of the State, if the commissioners had consulted their own pleasure, if they had been less patriotic and less mindful of their oaths, they would long since have resigned in a body to escape the vituperation that has been poured upon them. The statement alleged to have been made by Mr. H. D. Hines that the editor of this paper had notified Gov. Beckham that "he would use his influence with the commissioners to make war on him," has no foundation. The commissioners, it is true, were suggested by Mr. Meacham, but the Governor never appointed them until they had been submitted to his henchmen here and approved by them. Mr. Meacham displayed no "hostility" towards the administration until it was a year old, and had become a defender of the crime exposed in the Asylum. We have had no communication with the Governor, direct or indirect, since the removal of Dr. McCormick and the whitewash proceedings that followed that action. Any statement to the contrary is a malicious falsehood. In the meantime, it will be interesting to see how the Governor will go about removing the Board, who have been appointed and confirmed for stated terms and can only be removed lawfully by impeachment proceedings for cause.

Messrs. Charles Knight and James Breathitt were given a hearing before the committee Wednesday. These gentlemen and Messrs. J. B. Walker, R. W. Ware and M. P. Shryer are the commissioners whose removal is sought by the gamblers and their backers.

The House Committee on Post Office and Postroads unanimously agreed to insert in the postoffice appropriation bill an item providing that in the future the rural route delivery service shall be performed by contract on the same basis as the star route services. It is believed by the members of the Committee that a uniform rate of compensation for long and short routes over good and bad roads is unequal and that the contract system will be the fairest way of paying for work actually performed.

"A DAY AND A NIGHT."

One of the Merriest Comedies to Be Presented.

The latest of the Hoyt farces, "A Day and A Night," is one of the merriest of comedies, sparkling with wit and satire. The story of the play concerns Marble Hart, the son of Lyon Hart, who has been quite frisky in his younger days, and still delights to get out and make Rome howl. His son's religious tendencies tire the old man who desires the young man to see the world. The younger man goes to New York and tries to secure singers for the choir of the church of which he is deacon. His father, aided by a theatrical manager, introduces him to a lot of chorus girls. The young man's sweetheart, a former actress, joins the company while he is present, and to hide her identity masquerades as a soubrette, and although the young man says she looks very much like his Ada, she denies it, but gives him practical lessons in how to make love to his sweetheart. He proves an apt pupil. In fact the delight of his father. The situations are exceedingly funny, and many curious complications arise. The comedy will be seen at Holland's Opera House, Wednesday night, February 19.

"I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for 15 years and have no hesitancy in saying that it is the best remedy for coughs, colds and croup I have ever used in my family. I have not words to express my confidence in this remedy." —Mrs. J. A. Moore, Fort Star, Mich. For sale by all druggists.

TEXAS LETTER.
Lubbock, Texas, Feb. 5, 1902.

Editor KENTUCKIAN:

I want to write a few lines to the good and honest people through the columns of the KENTUCKIAN. I'm living in Lubbock county out on the great plains, where a man, when he goes home after his day's work, doesn't have to hang his hat on a nail, but simply has to only lay it up by the side of the house, and the wind does the rest.

Well, the plains are as level as a floor and sandy as the sea shore. I haven't seen an oak forest since I left Memphis, Tenn., and our train was a night train and we traveled about a hundred and fifty miles in the night, and of course could not see much of anything. I think Arkansas must have been named after a saw mill, for there is one about every mile or two along the railroad.

Nearly everybody on the train came from Memphis to Texarkana and were going to Texas or Oklahoma, and they were a jolly set. I haven't seen a black man since I left Colorado, Tex., and since I have been seventeen days.

We left Colorado city Sunday Jan. 19th, about noon and arrived at W. H. Vaughn's about noon Wednesday of the same week.

On the way we saw a few canyons and mountains, which were very beautiful to a person who had never seen any before.

There was one peak rising up out of a canyon that was about 25 feet high and was almost perfectly round, and was about 60 feet across the top, and it looked like some boy had cut the top off with his papa's broad axe, it was so level on top.

We arrived on the plains about 11:25 a. m. on Tuesday, January 21st, and haven't seen a hill since, except the one going in and out of the canyon at the little town of Lubbock.

Lubbock is a very nice little village. It has 6 or 7 stores, two land offices, one printing office, a court house, a church, a public school, a bank, and several nice residences, besides a large hotel. The people are all honest and upright and have plenty of money to pay the cash for what they buy.

I have seen 25 or 30 antelopes, and prairie dogs to let, besides I have seen several wolves and jack rabbits. I shot one jack rabbit and it would have weighed about 25 lbs. Its ears were six inches long.

DIVORCE WANTED.

Three More Suits Filed With Circuit Court.

GRAND SERMONS.

Stephen Kendrick wants a divorce from Minerva Kendrick and alleges abandonment. They were married in this county in 1883 and lived together fifteen years says the petition.

H. B. Moseley sues for divorce from Sarah M. Moseley. Plaintiff alleges abandonment without cause and without fault on his part. They were married in Christian county in 1896 and lived together two years.

Henry Cox vs. Julia Cox is the style of another suit for divorce filed this week. They were married in Clarksville, Tenn., in 1888 and separated in 1899, says the petition. Plaintiff further states that defendant abandoned his house and refused to and has not since lived with him, and that during the time they lived together he always treated her in a kind and affectionate manner, providing comfortably for her support.

BETTER RECEIPTS

And Prices Good For Kinds Offered on Market.

The local tobacco market is showing considerable activity this week in all branches.

Cash receipts were 33½ bushels for the week, and 980 for the year. Offerings were 15 bushels and there were only two rejections. The stock sold was low leaf and lugs and prices obtained were considered good for this class of the weed. Tobacco is getting in much better shape for handling and loose receipts are improving right along.

LAMB-PICKERING.

Caldwell County Couple Married Here by Judge Fowler.

Mr. William A. Lamb and Miss M. J. Pickering, a young couple from near Scranton, Caldwell county, arrived here over the I. C. Tuesday night and went directly to the Court House, where they were married at 10 o'clock by Judge Fowler.

Mr. and Mrs. Lamb left for their home Wednesday morning.

St. Valentine's.

This is St. Valentine's day and the postmaster has all the work he can do. The dealers in valentines have had large sales and the usual amount of money has been expended in this foolishness. How much better it would be to give it to charitable purposes.

A petition is being circulated among the business men of Elton asking Dr. George F. Pentecost, the noted preacher, to come to this city at a time suitable to him and conduct a revival in our midst. We all have heard of this successful revivalist, Elton Progress.

them. He said, "Come out of the low lands, a place of slavery, where you are oppressed and where you labor without pay. Come into a land flowing with milk and honey." God's eye is always upon us, day and night. Satan deceives you, he has a coil of rope around you to draw you down to destruction. As high as the heavens are above the earth so is the forgiveness of God to them that fear him. As far as the east is from the west so is the Lord removes our sins from us. Do you know how far that is? You may start to find the east and you go on and on, and stop where you started. It is east and west still. I have sins but find forgiveness. God puts them away; he puts them behind him. There are places in the ocean whose depths man has never been able to fathom. God casts our sins into the sea. He can't see them. Sometimes we remember our sins, but God never does—he forgets them. Hezekiah became proud and haughty. God said to him, "Tear your face to the wall, Hezekiah, and die." "Must I die?" How he pleaded with God. God can't stand an appeal for mercy. I say it reverently, he has to come down to it—it "breaks him all up. I say it reverently, it is the language of the day. God says he will put our sins behind his back. That's the way God does it. He never looks at them again—he never sees them again; that's the abundance of forgiveness. I fancy our sins are between God's face and ours when we go to him, and he just takes them and puts them behind him. That's the way he forgives. The are gone henceforth and forever.

Here the preacher drew a wood-picture of a storm he saw arise while he was on one of the peaks of the Alps several years ago. It was a lovely day. Not a cloud was to be seen nor a speck in the sky. Then small specks of vapor began to rise, then increased in number. Soon the sun had drawn up the irregular vaporous rings until they became clouds. Then the sky was shut out by great frowning clouds and the forked lightning began to play, then the sheet lighting, and the roar of thunder was heard. Then the rain fell and he was in the midst of an Alpine storm, something he had wanted to see for many years. Such a picture as he drew cannot be put on paper. It must be described by the words of the one who saw it. So vividly was it portrayed that one could almost see the lightning's flash and the roar of thunder. Out of all the many good things that Dr. Pentecost said since he has been here this picture was the most beautiful—we will not say that, either—but it was so different from anything else the preacher has given us. "Nothing could be prettier," is heard on all sides.

The Doctor compared man's progress in sin to the storm in the Alps.

First one sin, a little sin, then another and another, growing larger and worse; and worse, until they rise up before God like a great black cloud.

The darkness settles about and the thunder bolt of death strikes—no, God by his infinite power bolts out the black clouds, and the man does not die.

Dr. Pentecost spoke of the power of God to save every sinner no matter how great. He told of a conversation he had with an infidel in which he made light of God's word, condemned it, strongest terms the similitude of the illustrations bible characters and pointed their sins. The Doctor replied:

"You haven't read Bunyan's 'Grace Abounding,' or you haven't enough to understand it. You are telling me what their old nature was. Now tell me what sort of man they were after grace got hold of them. All men by nature are as sinful as they were. God's grace is equal for all. I say to you to night, you must take it or reject it.

The attendance was as large as at any night, excepting Sunday, during the meeting. Prof. Excell was in high good humor and the singing was delightful. Prof. Excell is "struck" on the choir.

He said that he was proud of his male members, that it is the best male choir of any meeting he has ever been in."

WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

They were about four thousand persons present, even the gallery being filled. For an hour and a half Dr. Pentecost held the immense audience spell-bound by his matchless presentation of the question of the free forgiveness of God toward man.

Prof. Excell sang with great effect, "I've Anchored My Soul in the Haven of Rest." This is one of the songs Prof. Excell sang when he was here three years ago and is a great favorite. The singing by the choir was magnificent.

The Doctor chose for his text the 38th verse of the 13th chapter of Acts. There is nothing more important for us than to have clear ideas of the Gospel of God. Man stands related to God in two great states or relations. Judicially and governmentally; as a boy to his father, who is the judge of the law. The declaration comes to us that we are justified. The words pardon and justification can be used interchangeably. But Christians have lost the sharp meaning of these words. Pardon relates to penalties. When a man is pardoned he is set free. Justification has to do with restoration as to a man's standing.

He is set to right morally and legally. There is no offense in the law against us. Pardon clears away all penalties. In the New Testament we are not under law but under grace. Justification is its growth. The first thing that comes to us in the gospel is forgiveness of sins.

First, we will consider the scope of forgiveness "through this man is preached unto you the forgiveness of sins." There are no terms or conditions, it is an open proclamation. God holds no offense against any man. He forgave the world through Christ. "By the righteousness of one (Christ) the right gift came upon all men unto justification of life." (Rom. 5:18) God has put out of His heart our offenses, does not hold them against us. This proclamation of forgiveness is unconditional—He freely forgives all of us, whether accepted or not. Free forgiveness is in His mind, though it may not be possible—it is an unconditional proclamation. Whether you accept or reject, the gift remains. "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son." Whether you accept the gift or not, the fact remains. There are no terms. "Do not tell men that I'll try and love them. Tell them I do love them," says God. "I sent My son to save them. He has been raised from the dead and preached unto them." Dr. Pentecost said he would like to be one of several others to give $100 each for the purpose. The meetings are over, and though visible results may not be what was hoped for, there is no doubt that great and lasting good has been done.

Dr. Pentecost goes from Louisville to Danville to conduct a meeting.

Elikton is making preparations to have the Doctor go there and hold a meeting.

TEXAS LETTER.

Lubbock Texas, Feb. 5, 1902.—

Editor KENTUCKIAN:

I want to write a few lines to the good and honest people through the columns of the KENTUCKIAN. I'm living in Lubbock county, out on the great plains, where a man, when he goes home after his days work, doesn't have to hang his hat on a nail, but simply has to lay it down by the side of the house, and the wind does the rest.

Well, the plains are as level as a floor and sandy as the sea shore. I haven't seen an oak forest since, I left Memphis, Tenn., but our train was a night train and we traveled about a hundred and fifty miles in the night, and of course could not see much of anything. I think Arkansas must have been named after a saw mill, for there is one about every mile or two along the railroad.

Nearly everybody on the train came from Memphis to Texarkana and were going to Texas or Oklahoma, and they were a black set. I haven't seen a black man since I left Colorado, Tex., and that has been seventeen days.

We left Colorado city Sunday Jan. 19th, about noon and arrived at W. H. Vaughn's about noon Wednesday of the same week.

On the way we saw a few canyons and mountains, which were very beautiful to a person who had never seen any before.

There was one peak rising up out of a canyon that was about 25 feet high and was almost perfectly round, and was about 60 feet across the top, and it looked like some boy had cut the top off with his papa's broad axe, it was so level on top.

We arrived on the plains about 11:25 a. m. on Tuesday, January 21st, and haven't seen a hill since, except the one going in and out of the canyon at the little town of Lubbock.

Lubbock is a very nice little village. It has 6 or 7 stores, two land offices, one printing office, a court house, a church, a public school, a bank, and several nice residences, besides a large hotel. The people are all honest and upright and have plenty of money to pay the cash for what they buy.

I have seen 25 or 30 antelopes, and prairie dogs, to let, besides I have seen several wolves and jack rabbits. I shot one jack rabbit and it would have weighed about 25 lbs. Its ears were six inches long.

Heary Cox vs. Julia Cox is the style of another suit for divorce filed this week. They were married in Clarksville, Tenn., in 1888 and separated in 1899, says the petition. Plaintiff further states that defendant abandoned his house and refused to and has not since lived with him, and that during the time they lived together he always treated her in a kind and affectionate manner, providing comfortably for her support.

Tobacco is getting in much better shape for handling and loose receipts are improving right along.

GRAND SERMONS.

them. He said, "Come out of the low lands, a place of slavery, where you are oppressed and where you labor without pay. Come into a land flowing with milk and honey." God's eye is always upon us, day and night. Satan deceives you, he has a coil of rope around you to draw you down to destruction. As high as the heavens are above the earth so is the forgiveness of God to them that fear him. As far as the east is from the west so the Lord removes our sins from us. Do you know how far that is? You may start to find the east and you go on and on, and stop where you started. It is east and west still. I have sins but find forgiveness. God puts them away; he puts them behind him. There are places in the ocean whose depths man has never been able to do with his boat. The God casts our sins into the sea. He can't see them. Sometimes we remember our sins, but God never does—he forgets them. Hezekiah became proud and haughty. God said to him, "Turn, your face to the wall, Hezekiah, and die." "Must I die?" How he pleaded with God. God can't stand an appeal for mercy. I say it reverently, he has to come down to it—it "breaks him all up. I say it reverently, it is the language of the day. God says he will put our sins behind his back. That's the way God does it. He never looks at them again—he never sees them again; that's the abundance of forgiveness. I fancy our sins are between God's face and ours when we go to him, and he just takes them and puts them behind him. That's the way he forgives. The are gone henceforth and forever.

Here the preacher drew a word-picture of a storm he saw arise while he was on one of the peaks of the Alps several years ago. It was a lovely day. Not a cloud was to be seen, not a speck in the sky. Then small specks of vapor began to rise, then increased in number. Soon the sun had drawn up the irregular vaporous rings until they became clouds. Then the sky was shut out by great frowning clouds and the forked lightning began to play, then the sheet lightning, and the roar of thunder was heard. Then the rain fell and he was in the midst of an Alpine storm, something he had wanted to see for many years. Such a picture as he drew cannot be put on paper. It must be described by the words of the one who saw it. So vividly was it portrayed that one could almost see the lightning's flash and hear the roll of thunder. Out of all the many good things that Dr. Pentecost has said since he has been here this picture was the most beautiful—we will not say that, either—but it was so different from anything else the preacher has given us. "Nothing could be prettier," is heard on all sides.

The Doctor compared man's progress in sin to the storm in the Alps. First one sin, a little sin, then another and another, growing larger and worse and worse, until they rise up before God like a great black cloud. The darkness settles about and the thunder bolt of death strikes—no, God by his infinite power blots out the back clouds, and the man does not die.

Dr. Pentecost spoke of the power of God to save every sinner, no matter how great. He told of a conversation he had with an infidel in which he made light of God's word, condemned in strongest terms the sinfulness of the illustrious bible characters and pointed their sins. The Doctor replied: "You haven't read Bunyan's 'Grace Abounding,' or you haven't gumption enough to understand it. You are telling me what their nature was. Now tell me what sort of men they were after grace got hold of them. All men by nature are as sinful as they were. God's grace is equal for all. I say to you to night, you must take it or reject it."

The attendance was as large as any night, except Sunday evening, during the meeting. Prof. Excell was in high good humor and the singing was delightful. Prof. Excell is "struck" on the choir. He said that he was proud of his male members, that it is "the best male choir of any meeting he has ever seen in."

WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

There were about four thousand persons present, even the gallery being filled. For an hour and a half Dr. Pentecost held the immense audience spell-bound by his masterless presentation of the question of the free forgiveness of God toward man.

Prof. Excell sang with great effect, "I've Anchored My Soul in the Haven of Rest." This is one of the songs Prof. Excell sang when he was here three years ago and is a great favorite. The singing by the choir was magnificent.

The Doctor chose for his text the 38th verse of the 13th chapter of Acts. There is nothing more important for us than to have clear ideas of the Gospel of God. Man stands related to God in two great states or relations. Judicially and governmentally; as a boy to his father, who is the judge of the law. The declaration comes to us that we are justified. The words pardon and justification can be used interchangeably. But Christians have lost the sharp meaning of these words. Pardon relates to penalties. When a man is pardoned he is set free. Justification has to do with restoration as to a man's standing.

He is set to right morally and legally. There is no offense in the law against us. Pardon clears away all penalties. In the New Testament we are not under law but under grace. Justification does it. Justification is the outcome of forgiveness. The first thing that comes to us in the gospel is forgiveness of sins.

First, we will consider the scope of forgiveness "through this man is preached unto you the forgiveness of sins." There are no terms or conditions, it is an open proclamation. God holds no offense against any man. He forgives the world through Christ. "By the righteousness of one (Christ) the free gift came upon all men unto justification of life." (Rom. 5:18) He put not of His heart our offenses, does not hold them against us. This proclamation of forgiveness is unconditional—He freely forgives all of us, whether accepted or not. Free forgiveness is in His mind, though it may not be in yours—it is an unconditional proclamation. Whether you accept or reject, the fact remains. "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son." Whether you accept the gift or not, the fact remains. There are no terms. "Do not tell men that I'll try and love them. Tell them I do love them," says God. "I sent My son to save them. He has been raised from the dead and preached unto them." By grace are ye saved." There are no bargains in God's grace. It's a gift. The proclamation is universal salvation. The doctrine of universalism is a perilous and dangerous doctrine to preach. But men won't take advantage of it, they won't accept Christ, the free gift. I give you a glass of water. The satisfying of your thirst depends on your drinking the water. I give it to you, whether you accept it or not. It is yours without the asking, but you won't take it. So is forgiveness. You won't take it because God holds no offense against any man. He forgives the world through Christ. "While we yet sinners Christ died for us." Forgiven in our sins—saved freely by grace.

That's the sum of it. Men must take advantage of it. They don't want it, they spurn it. That's the shame of it. You dash the gift out of your hands as you do the glass of water I give you. The gift is complete without your accepting it. You are in prison. God opens wide the prison door and bids you go free. You fling him off and resist him. The gift of pardon is unconditional, the door is open, but you won't go out of your prison cell. You ask a man to be forgiven though he is lost? Pss. A man who is loved can be lost. All the damned in hell have been forgiven. They walked out of heaven into hell. Lost, in spite of the grace of God. You are saved by the blood of Christ. Repentance nor baptism won't save you. Good works won't save you. "God commends his love toward us, in that while we yet sinners Christ died for us." Rom. 5:8. God's forgiveness carries with it the cheer of Jesus Christ, it carries justification, grace carries everything with it. "The gift of God is eternal life."

I am not trying to propagate a new theory. Zachariah, after being prophesied, "Blessed is the Lord God of Israel; for he hath visited and redeemed his people."

Luke 1:68. There is no open door in the law, it's a solid rock. Forgiveness is an open door. "I have heard there is a time accepted, and in the day of salvation have I succeeded thee; behold now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation." 2 cor. 6:2. There is room for repentance in the gospel; there is no room in the law. "When Jesus saw their faith, he said unto the sick of palsies, Son, thy sins be forgiven thee." I say unto the arise up take the bed, and go thy way into thine house."—Mark 2, 8. When the adulteress came to Christ she was forgiven. She heard him preaching the day before the message of deliverance and freedom. That's the reason she came and poured out the wealth of her affection at his feet. Christ said to her, "You havent misinterpreted me, thy sins are forgiven thee." "Law came by Moses, but grace and truth by Jesus Christ." The woman stayed at his feet, and that is the way you must do. Don't ask "Isn't sin sin?" Christ will do everything for you. "The Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all." Paul says in 2 cor. 5:19 God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself, not imputing their trespasses onto them; and hath committed unto us the word of redemption." God is trying to get the world to be friends with him. He is not laying up their trespasses against them. He laid them all on Christ. Be reconciled to God. How awfully God judges sin. He had to lay all their weight on his son. Forgiveness of sin is not predicated on repentance or baptism. Forgiveness is with God in Jesus Christ. Repentance and baptism cannot buy forgiveness of sins. The price was paid by Christ and God gives a clean and full receipt. Nevertheless it is possible to be forgiven and yet be lost. Some of you here to-night are saying, by your acts, if not in words, "I love my master, I will not give up my sins. I won't accept freedom, I choose to be a slave forever." You may be damned with the tears of God upon you. Justified, but you won't accept the freedom that God gives you. You have the holes bored in your ears and choose to be a slave forever. You won't accept the gift of eternal life in Jesus Christ.

As we stated in our last issue, Dr. Pentecost will begin a series of meetings, continuing four weeks, in Louisville next Sunday night.

There is a debt of $2,000 still hanging over the Tabernacle. An effort was made last night to raise this amount and pay off the debt. Dr. Pentecost said he would like to be one of several others to give $100 each for the purpose. The meetings are over, and though visible results may not be what was hoped for, there is no doubt that great and lasting good has been done.

Dr. Pentecost goes from Louisville to Danville to conduct a meeting.

Elton is making preparations to have the Doctor go there and hold a meeting.

Twenty-three Years.

In view of the fact that the KENTUCKIAN has wound up its 23d year of success, it is not out of place to say a word to its friends. The KENTUCKIAN has long since become a fixture of Hopkinsville.

All Newspaper Records in the City Have Been Broken by it.

No other paper ever published in Hopkinsville can point to a record of more than 20 years, with each year's business better than the one before. How many papers in that time have tried to run in Hopkinsville and fallen by the wayside? How many have failed to reach the goal?

An ocean cable 10,000 miles long would not serve the purpose for which it was designed if it fell short within twenty feet of the receiving-instrument.

It isn't the first end that counts. It's the last end. The start is nothing. Every contestant starts in a race, but how many finish? Almost any horse can begin in a race. Wish a few trials, ever an old plug may get away from the wire all right, but it's the coming under the wire for the last time that counts, it's being in the race to the finish that is alone valuable.

A great many things in this world are made to begin well enough, but they fall short.

The KENTUCKIAN as an advertising medium has never fallen short. As a news medium, occupying a field of its own choosing, it has for 20 years stood squarely upon its merits and succeeded.

WHERE OTHERS FAILED.

Advertisers should bear this in mind. Money spent for Newspaper Advertising is an investment. It is not how much the advertising costs, but how large will be the returns. The mission of Newspaper Advertising is to Sell Goods. When the careful merchant has decided the important question as to the right medium, then, by attractive display advertising in that medium, he will inevitably increase sales. This result follows as surely as day follows night. The is the medium that pays, because it reaches the people. It has among its patrons advertisers who have been with it without a break for 12 to 15 years. It numbers the very best class of advertisers in their respective lines of business.

If you are not already a customer of ours, we want to make you one, and your advertising

DOG A WAR VETERAN.

San Juan, a bright Terrier, has an interesting history.

San Juan, a good-sized fox terrier belonging to Capt. S. S. Bayles and Mrs. Bayles, of Port Jefferson, L. I., formerly was the mascot of the Fifth United States volunteers (immunes) at San Juan. He was wounded twice and once saved by a Red Cross nurse.

"San Juan fell from the transport on which the Fifth regiment sailed from Guantanamo," said Capt. S. S. Bayles, who, with Mrs. Bayles, was on board the schooner Laguna at Pier 3, East river, the other night.

"He was badly hurt, but swam ashore. This was April, 1899. The terrier passed several Spanish ships and, hearing Mrs. Bayles and me speaking English aboard the Laguna, lay down on the pier and cried.

"Mrs. Bayles found a bullet wound on his back. She washed out the wound and we brought San Juan to Philadelphia, intending to give him away. He begged for some ice cream, however, and ate it with a relish. I thought a dog that could appreciate ice cream was intelligent enough to keep."

"San Juan is now fat and happy. He greets everybody in the house before they are up in the morning if he can break into their rooms, and whenever Mrs. Bayles and I plan to go driving San Juan understands and begs to go along."

"He is white with brown spots, and has medium-sized ears. He was nine months old when he fell from the transport and I think he came originally from San Antonio."—N. Y. World.

A Great Political Upheaval Almost Sure to Come.

Morocco flares up feebly now and then as a subject of interest, demanding a paragraph or two in the newspapers. A rift, outrage, a rumored advance of France in the direction of Taflet (few people know where Taflet is), a photographic extravaganza of Abdul Aziz, or the abduction of a Spanish boy and girl by unshod mountaineers take their place among "snippets," to be forgotten the next day. In truth, says the London Chronicle, Morocco is a term inelegant which is supposed to be interpreted by ten days at the hybrid seaport of Tangier, or a call at the coast ports in one of Forwood's comfortable steamers. A number of worthless books on the country, and a few which are admirable, have failed to interest and enlighten the general public, so that whenever the great upheaval comes, and the decaying empire is brought into prominence by the European complication of which its destinies will be the occasion, little more will be known of the causes of its decay than if it were a province of Mars.

Edgewood's breeding is of the most fashionable strain, and contains crosses to all the blood that has produced the winners of the world. Such stallions are too few for the good of the trotting industry. Numbers of the best, were during the hard times just past, exported to foreign countries. Among the few left to fill the requirements Edgewood remains, though yet a young horse, has seven to his credit, with records from 2:20 to 2:10, which, in itself is proof sufficient as to his merit. His colts are all fine, large, good-looking individuals, good actors and trotters, and command the top prices when led in the sale ring. Gayety, 2:18 1/2, one of his handsome daughters, was sold to John Spian, of Cleveland, Ohio, last February for Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00). Eight youngsters by him were sold in John S. Lackey's sale in March last, by S. J. Fleming & Son, of Terre Haute, Ind., for prices that proved to their satisfaction that there was still money in raising colts by the right kind of a horse.

Edgewood is the property of S. J. Fleming & Son, of Terre Haute, Ind., and ranks with such horses as Margrave, Axtell, and Jersey Wilkes, which is proven by his list of colts with race records. His colts make fine roadsters and Matinee horses and are sought for that purpose as well as for race horses.

Edgewood, by Nutwood, (600) sire of 160 performers, including Lockheart, 208 1/2, Manager, 206 and 12 others in 2:10 list. He by Belmont. He by Abdallah, 15. He by Hambletonian, 10. Nutwood's dam, Miss Russell, daughter of Maud S., 2,08 1/2, and six others. Her sons are sires of 223, and Edgewood's dam, Melrose, is the dam of Glenview Belle, 220 1/2, and Frances, (2 yr.), 228 1/2, made in 1901. His second dam, Moss Rose, dam of Nutrose, 222, and grand dam of 16, 3rd dam, Primrose, the dam of 6, from 3:30 to 2:20, 4th dam, Black Rose, dam of 5 in the 2:20 list.

This grandly bred horse will make a season at J. J. Van Stee's farm on the Clarksville pike. For further information, address

We have had a large enrollment and have secured positions for every one of our graduates, without a single exception, and many of them are holding some of the most responsible positions, with salaries ranging from $35 to $125 a month. No better school anywhere is available.

We have four of the very best teachers of experience, who are graduates of the very best colleges in the South.

You can get no better, no more thorough courses anywhere. We are working for our reputation, hence it is to our advantage to thoroughly prepare our students and place them in good positions.

We are connected with three Employment Agencies in other cities and are having many more calls for book-keepers and stenographers every week than we can possibly supply. All you have to do is to take a thorough course with us, and the consequences will take care of themselves.

Our tuition is lower than anywhere else. We have a good boarding house to take all our students at $8 to $10 a month. This school is permanent. Write for Catalogue.
